RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The Big Creek Sunday School passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, On March 31st, 1906, it was the divine will and pleasure of the Grand Teacher on High, to whom we must all bow in humble submission, to call from our Sunday School our dearly beloved sister and scholar, Miss Annie England, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Watt England, and

Whereas, Big Creek Sunday School was caused to give up by her death, a faithful scholar and devoted Christian whose loss is felt to the fullest extent by this school and the bereaved father, mother, brothers and sisters.

Therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of Miss Annie England the Big Creek Sunday School and community suffered the loss in her early womanhood of a young woman of scholarly attainments and much promise in the Sunday School, a woman of excellent moral character and of the highest order of legal and business integrity.

That we, For the Sunday School and community deeply deplore the early death of our sister and her removal from the paths of usefulness, and we hereby extend to the parents and family of the deceased our deepest sympathy, but while it is our loss, it is her eternal gain.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread at length upon the record of the Sunday School and printed in The Adair County News and The Columbia Spectator and a copy be sent the family of the deceased.

OBITUARY.

On the evening of March 26th, about 9 o'clock, Mrs. Amanda J. Loy was called from this world to that bright home of the saints just over on the other shore. The cause of her death was a cancer of the eye. She had been a sufferer for about seventeen years.

Amanda J. Loy was born in Wythe county, Va., Feb., 12th, 1846 and came to this county with her father and mother when quite young. She was happily married to William C. Loy Oct. 10th, 1872, to this union was born seven children; her husband and three children preceded her to the great beyond.

In early life she accepted Jesus as her savior and united with the M. E. Church and was a devout member until the end came. She leaves four children, many relatives and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

We wish to say to her dear children: Prepare to meet your mother in that land where there will be no more sad parting.

Funeral services were held at Concord church by Rev. G. A. Abrel after which the remains were laid to rest in the Loy grave yard.

"How joyful is the tho't that lingers,
When loved ones cross death's sea,
That when our labors here are ended,
With them we'll ever be."

G. W. T.

OBITUARY.

On the evening of March 13 1906, many a bitter tear of sorrow was shed by relatives and friends when the dark angel of death entered home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley England, and took from them little Zora, the idol of their hearts. Zora was six years old and was a bright and winsome little girl whom every one loved, and though the sun shines around the lonely little grave to-day the little form is resting so sweetly there is not forgotten.

While we mourn, the sweet angelic form surrounded by the angels above, she's lisping praises to him who said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven," and with her sweet baby hands is beckoning us to come and share the eternal joys of that bright world.

As the Lord in his wise providence has seen fit to pluck from its fragile stem this bright little flower of earth and replant it in his own home above, we would say to the sorrowing family look to him who doeth all things and say: "Thy will not ours, O Lord be done."

'Tis sad when friends from earth are called

To heaven to meet their God;
And we, their forms in mantles rolled,
Lay them beneath the sod.

We'll see their forms on earth no more,
But in that land we know
We'll see them on that peaceful shore,
In garments white as snow.

Then help us, Lord, to love Thy way,
While here on earth we roam,
That we may dwell in peace for aye,
With Thee and friends at home.

A FRIEND.

Nervous School Children.

Statistics gathered by various School Boards, show that a large percentage of school children suffer from different forms of nervousness, mild or exaggerated. Some showed a tendency to melancholy, others mental depression, and many the nervous twitchings of mild chorea, or St. Vitus' dance. Most of these troubles can be overcome by proper food, sufficient sleep, and Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It is a universal children's medicine, because, if good food is eaten, it insures that the food is properly digested and indigestion and nerve poisons properly thrown out. It is pleasant to take, and safe and sure in results. Try it. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, Columbia, Ky., and Page & Moore, Cane Valley, Ky., at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

THE ORIGINAL NEW ENGLAND.

There is a common saying that if the Pilgrim fathers had only landed on the Pacific coast, a large portion of the Atlantic seaboard would never have been settled. Californians, Oregonians and Washingtonians believe this implicitly. In other words, the charms of the Pacific coast in the way of climate are so appreciated that, having once experienced them, men are unwilling to live elsewhere contentedly. Now, not one man in a thousand living on the Pacific coast knows that as a matter of fact the accents of our mother tongue were heard on the beach not far from San Francisco forty-one years before English was spoken on Plymouth rock. More amusing still is the fact that the original New England was on the Pacific coast; for Francis Drake, in 1579, at the close of a month's stay, took possession of the country for his sovereign, Elizabeth, and named the new acquisition Nouva Albion (New England) because he thought the white cliffs near what is now Point Reyes resembled the chalk cliffs near Dover. —Outing.
